Badgerclaw- Black Tom with white stripes going down both sides and brown eyes.
Bluefire- bluish grey she-cat with green eyes.
Cougarpelt- golden-brown she-cat with green eyes.
Whitepoppy- White she-cat with blue eyes.
Voleclaw- brown Tom with green eyes.h
Whiskerfang- brown tabby Tom with white blotches and yellow eyes.
Lynxfeather- golden brown splotched she-cat with white paws and green eyes.

Queens:
HollyWhisp- black she-cat with silver stripes and green eyes, (mother to; Hollykit- jet black she-kit with green eyes and a white paw, Jaykit- grey Tom kit with yellow eyes).
Goldenhoney- golden ginger she-cat with yellow eyes, (mother to; Mousekit- light brown she-kit with blue eyes, Finchkit- grey Tom with brown eyes).

Elders:
Dawntiger- golden she-cat with Amber eyes.

Foxleap- ginger Tom with brown eyes.

Chapter 1

I woke to see my brother looking at me, I yawned.
"Yay your eyes are open," he gasped, I looked at him confused.
"Why are you so exited?" I asked.
"Because we can go play now!" Jaykit said bouncing around, I chased after him when he bolted out. I bumped into another kit, I jumped back embarrassed.
"Sorry I wasn't watching where I was going," I said.
"It's ok Hollykit, it's also my fault," he said.
"Hey your Finchkit right?" I asked.
"Yeah and that's my sister Mousekit, that must be your brother Jaykit," he said.
"Yes he is my brother but he is kinda weird, his eyes are blue but he says he can see but he looks blind," I said.
"He can use that as an advantage in battle," Finchkit said, we played a while before our siblings wanted to join so we let them. Thunder sounded and it started to rain, we bolted inside and huddled together. Lightning struck them nursery causing it to light on fire, we tried to get out but the fire caused us to stay while we were trapped. We cried for help but no cat heard us over the sound of the rain and thunder, I pleaded starclan to send some cat a message. A few cats saw this but by then the fire had spread beyond the nursery and had started burning half the camp, they forgot us and this made me angry.
"Ok here's the plan, I help you guys over the flames but when I do run ok," I said, they nodded. I helped them out one by one until only I was left, I went to get out but was forced back because the front of the nursery collapsed before my eyes. It was pitch black other then the light the fire made while it was burning through, the heat it created was almost too hot for me to handle. I lay down wheezing and coughing from the smoke, I knew that if this kept up I would die. Some cat was clawing their way through the roof of the collapsed nursery, he grabbed my scruff and ran to the centre of camp. His pelt filled with shadows, my mother knew him but we didn't. I cough and coughed, he put me down and gave me fresh water.

"How dare you show your face again," HollyWhisp spat.
"I am saving my kit why else would I be here, unlike you I tried you stood there and did nothing," he hissed.
"Doesn't give you....." Hollywhisp was cut off.
"Why did you not try to save one of your kits?" Lionstar said his tail flicking.
"The nursery was on fire I don't want to get burnt," she spat but regretted it.
"So you would let your kit, our kit die because you don't want to get hurt, you pathetic excuse for a queen," he spat at her.
"Shatterstar please understand she has nothing to do with my life, she has too much your temperament I don't want a killer in my clan," she said still looking at the Tom beside me.
"So you would rather her dead then Jaykit, her brother," Lionstar said now she was angry.
"Lionstar keep out of this, this is between me and my mate got it!" HollyWhisp hissed.
"How dare you talk to your leader like that!" Shatteredstar spat, I knew he was a dark forest cat.
"Mumma don't you love me?" I asked my voice a squeak from all the smoke.
"Of course I do it's just....." She went to say but I cut her off.
"Why why am I not as important as Jaykit, why do you not like me, why do you hate me!" I almost sobbed.
"Look the reason I hate you Hollykit is because if you turn out like your father I will have no choice but to kill you like I did him when he killed," she spat but soon ran because she had given her deepest secret, my apprentice ceremony was in the morning so I would train my hardest and get revenge on her.

Chapter 2

I woke to a sunny day, a noise outside told me the meeting was starting.
"All cats old enough to catch their own prey gather around to hear my words!" Lionstar yowled, I quickly cleaned my fur and padded out with the others.
"I am so excited," I said, I sat down and listened.
"We have four new apprentices with us today, Finchkit until you have earned your warrior name you will be known as Finchpaw your mentor shall be Doveflight, Mousekit until you have earned your warrior name you shall be known as Mousepaw your mentor shall be Cougarpelt, Jaykit until you have earned your warrior name you shall be known as Jaypaw and because you have asked you shall be Snowpelts apprentice I hope she teaches you the ways of the medicine cat, Hollykit until you have earned your warrior name you shall be known as Hollypaw your mentor shall be myself," Lionstar called, the clan cheered.
"Finchpaw, Mousepaw, Jaypaw, Hollypaw!" They called.
"Tonight you sit vigil until I say," Lionstar said, I saw HollyWhisp in the corner of my eye and hissed at her. She just flattened her ears and I almost snapped when Finchpaw nudged me, I looked at him and went quiet our vigil started and I knew I had to be silent.

At sunrise.

My joints ached from crouching for so long, Lionstar came out to us.
"You four get some sleep and later I will be training you Hollypaw," Lionstar said, I padded into the apprentices den. I lay down in my nest next to Finchpaw, he and I were best friends. My brother went to the med cats den to sleep while Mousepaw slept on the other side of her brother, I drifted into a deep sleep.

Chapter 3

I woke the next morning to Lionstar prodding my side, I yawned and sat up.
"Come we must train," Lionstar said padding out, I groomed my fur and padded out. I followed him to a sandy hollow, he sat at the edge.
"Show me a hunters crouch," Lionstar said, I crouched down and pretended to stalk. Lionstar watched, as I pounced on the leaf he stood.
"Did I do it right?" I asked.
"You did very well for a beginner Hollypaw now let's test it on real prey," Lionstar said, I followed him when I spotted a mouse and started to stalk. Lionstar watched my every move, I pounced on the mouse and killed it with a swift bite to the next. I buried it and we moved on, soon I caught 4 mice and a pigeon. I carried my catch back to camp, I dropped it on the fresh kill pile. I saw my brother padding into camp with a bundle of herbs, Lionstar padded up to me.
"Go get some mouse bile and check the elders for ticks," Lionstar said, I padded into the medicine den to be greeted by my brother.
"Hello Hollypaw what bring you here?" Jaypaw asked.
"I need mouse bile for tick because I need to check the elders," I said, Jaypaw went into the small storage area and retrieved a stick that had a foul smelling stuff on the moss it carried. I wrinkled my nose and padded into the elders den, Dawntiger and Foxleap looked happy to see me.
"Looks like we finally get rid of our ticks," Dawntiger said her voice crackled with age, Foxleap was hitting at his tail. I checked Foxleap first, I found 3 ticks on him then I moved onto Dawntiger, she had 1 tick on her. I padded back into the medicine den to give the mouse bile back, I then washed my paws when Lionstar yet again came to me.
"Hollypaw I want you to fetch fresh moss if you can, the elders need it," Lionstar said, I was starting to think he wanted to keep me busy. I padded out of camp to find some moss, I ran into Finchpaw who was also finding some.

"Hey Finchpaw I guess your mentor is making you collect moss as well," I said, he looked up at me.
"Yeah I have to find it for the Warriors then us, is it ok if you help me with the apprentices den?" Finchpaw asked.
"Sure as if Lionstar doesn't keep me busy enough," I joked, we collected some moss and padded into camp. I took the old moss from the elders den and put down the fresh moss, I took the old moss away and fetched some for the apprentices den. As soon as I had the fresh moss and got started on the apprentices den Finchpaw came in to help me, we soon finished when yet again Lionstar came over.
"Hollypaw if it isn't too much to ask can you go get some wet moss for the elders?" Lionstar asked.
"Of course it isn't," I said, when he left I sat down.
"You weren't lying when you said he is overworking you today," Finchpaw said.
"No kidding," Mousepaw said padding up to us.
"I can help you if you want," Finchpaw said.
"Me too it's not fair for you to be overworked," Mousepaw said, I smiled at both of them.
"Thank you both so much," I said, we padded towards the lake and grabbed some moss. We dipped it in the lake and padded back to camp, when we dropped the moss off for the elders. Lionstar came over, I was exhausted but didn't show it.
"Hollypaw lets go train," Lionstar said, I watched him leave camp when I collapsed. I got up and followed him, I was panting when we arrived.
"What am I going to learn?" I asked.
"Your going to learn to do the tree climbing tactic," Lionstar said, I climbed the tree slowly.
"How high should I climb?" I called over my shoulder.
"As high as you can now do it faster if you chased a squirrel at that pace it would have been gone," Lionstar called to me, I tried to go faster but my exhaustion overwhelmed me. Finchpaw was talking to Lionstar when I made a mistake, my eyes widened and I fell. I hit a branch than slipped and hit the ground, I was panting when Finchpaw ran over. Lionstar padded over, I looked at them both.
"Lionstar let her rest she is exhausted," Finchpaw snapped.
"She is my apprentice I say when she rests," Lionstar said picking me up.

"Your going to kill her!" Finchpaw yowled.
"Try again climb faster this time," Lionstar said, I moved one step and collapsed. Jaypaw and Snowpetal bolted over, I could barely stay awake.
"You fool Lionstar she is still an apprentice let her rest," Snowpetal hissed at Lionstar while Jaypaw helped me back to camp, I saw Lynxfeather and Whiskerfang sharing touches until we went past them. They were worried about me, I lay down in my nest. I almost fell asleep when Lionstar prodded me, I looked at him.
"Get up now, your training isn't over," Lionstar hissed, I would have taken his last life if only I wasn't so exhausted. Lynxfeather padded in a ushered him out, I caught only a few words before I fell into a deep sleep.

Chapter 4

I woke a day later, my musles hurt. I groomed my fur and it turned out Lionstar had called a clan meeting, I padded out and sat down.
"I appoint a new mentor for Hollypaw, Lynxfeather shall be her mentor from this point on, I hope you train her well Lynxfeather," Lionstar said, it was odd he changed my mentor. I touched noses with my new mentor and she looked proud, I knew she convinced him to let her be my mentor. She purred and I sat beside her, I curled my tail around my paws.
"I also wish to say that yet again I found the scent of fox in our territory, if we do not find this fox and fast we could all be doomed," Lionstar said, I flattened my ears.
"That's impossible we chased it away not long ago," Lynxfeather said, I was confused.
"So from now on there will be more patrols until we find this fox!" Lionstar yowled.
"This is stupid I know where the fox is and you ignored me when I told you!" Whiskerfang hissed, Lionstar yet again ignored him.
"Clan dismissed," Lionstar said, me and Lynxfeather padded out of camp towards the training hollow. We found traces of something I have never smelled before, it's leapt out of the bushes. It was nothing like I had ever seen, it's roar echoed through the whole forest.

Cliff hanger lol, guys in the next chapter you will find out what this giant creature that roars is. Be patient and your patience will be rewarded, soon enough I shall write the next chapter until then peace out!

Guys the last chapter i left on a cliff hanger, yeah here is a small part from last chapter ok.

It's roar echoed through the whole forest, it looked at me its musles rippling under its coat. It roared again, it's big ember eyes staring at me. It's coat had stripes like I had never seen before, I bowed in its presence. More cats came up behind me and Lynxfeather, they were all amazed to see the tiger. It's voice was soothing and it spoke little, it turned out from its voice this tiger was female.
"Hello Thunderclan, I have come very far to speak with the one they call leader," she said, Lionstar padded forward.
"I am Lionstar leader of Thunderclan," Lionstar said, the tiger looked at him.
"I have come to tell you that the Mouse and the holly must be watched closely," she said her voice almost rumbling through the territory.
"Why did you come to tell us this?" I asked, the tiger looked at me.
"Well I need to visit the clans that thank Tigerclan for their ability to camouflage, plus I met some starclan cats along the way," the tiger said.
"Do you have a name?" I asked.
"My name is Suraki," she said her voice calm.
"My name is Hollypaw this is my mentor Lynxfeather, and that's the rest of the clan," I said, I told her all our names. She layed down as we all asked her question and she asked one of her own, this question made my blood run cold.
"Why do you keep traitors in your clan, they could do it again and kill you?" Suraki asked, I sat there looking at my mother my anger rising.
"I am still deciding on weather to kill this traitor or let her go," Lionstar said his gaze angry towards my mother, I looked back at Suraki.
"That is all well, in Tigerclan if we have a traitor, we give them a time period before we attack them and kill them if they are not off our territory," Suraki said her gaze warm, I shifted my paws unsure of what to say next.

"Is there any other reason you are here?" I asked, she looked at me.
"There is a prophecy for you Hollypaw, there will be four kin of your kin that have the power of the stars in their paws," a starclan cat said appearing, we all looked at this new cat. Suraki looked at the cat and nodded before she ran back the way she came, we looked back at the starclan cat.
"Why me?" I asked.
"We can not answer that," the starclan cat said before fading, I shifted my paws and ran back to the apprentices den to think about all this. I soon started to drift into a deep sleep, the words kept playing over and over in my head.

Chapter 6

I woke to a searing pain in my side, I opened my eyes to find a burning branch on me. I yowled for help but was too quiet to be heard, I coughed on the smoke and tried to wiggle free. A cat appeared out of the fire, I knew it was Finchpaw. He grabbed my scruff and pulled me free, I saw the flames of the fire as I was dragged out of camp. I closed my eyes and went unconscious, I knew I wasn't dead but I was badly burnt.

A few hours later.

I woke again to a sore throat and burning lungs, I coughed a few times and finch paw came over with some wet moss. I lapped it up, I looked at him.
"Thank you Finchpaw," I said.
"Your welcome," Finchpaw said, I found it odd of him to just stare away from me.
"What's wrong?" I asked.
"It's nothing we have a new member over there," Finchpaw said, when he pointed to the new she-cat apprentice he sighed as if he loved her. I looked away, I thought we had a future but now I saw that wasn't going to happen.
"I am going to go hunt, don't dare try to stop me we need to be fed," I said, I expected him to say good bye but he said nothing. I hissed silently and ran, I came across a burrow that smelled of mice. I dug them out and killed all of them, I took them back to the others. Each cat got a piece each, I ate alone. Jay paw came up to me, he had a few remaining herbs on him.
"Hey Hollypaw what's bothering you, you seem to be ignoring most of us," Jaypaw said.
"It's about Finchpaw, he loves the new apprentice," I said.
"Hey you will find the perfect Tom don't worry," Jaypaw said, Finchpaw padded over to me.
"Hey want to go hunting, I owe you for acting like a love struck Tom," Finchpaw said, I twitched my ear.
"Sure," I said, I thought while we hunted. I caught a few stray mice, a pigeon and a few voles. I padded back to our makeshift camp, I dropped the prey and went to sit under a tree. Finchpaw came over and dropped a mouse, he sat down.

"Want to share?" Finchpaw asked.
"Sure," I said, we shared the mouse when we headed back to camp. When we got there I knew there was going to be a meeting, I knew we were 6 moons old but never expected to be a warrior this soon.
"All cats olde enough to catch their own prey gather around to hear my words, we have three new warriors with us today, Mousepaw, Finchpaw, Hollypaw do you promise to uphold the warrio code and protect this clan even at the cost of your own life," Lionstar called.
"I do," we said at once.
"Then by the powers of starclan I give you your warriors names, Mousepaw you shall be known as Mouseflame, Finchpaw you shall be known as Finchfeather, Hollypaw you shall be known as Hollyfang, starclan welcomes you as full warriors to this clan," Lionstar said.
"Mouseflame, Finchfeather, Hollyfang!" All cats called, I noticed the new cat had gone missing. I didn't care, we went and started repairing camp. I was working on the nursery with Finchfeather when I heard pawsteps behind me, I turned to see Lynxfeather.
"You two your coming with me on a hunting patrol," Lynxfeather said, we padded into the forest after her. We got down to the lake when I saw a snake, I pounced on it as it went to strike Finchfeather. He jumped when he heard the snake hiss, I killed the snake and both Lynxfeather and Finchfeather looked at me.
"Look the true reason I dragged you two out here is because I trust only you on this for now, I am expecting Whiskerfangs kits,"Lynxfeather said, I purred in happiness beside Finchfeather. Lynxfeather purred, we caught a few mice and headed into camp. I knew one day I would have kits because of the prophecy, but the question was who would the father be. I padded into camp and started to help with the nursery again, I hissed as a briar thorn got stuck in my paw. I pulled it out and licked it, I went back to work. Soon the camp was finished and I was exhausted, I made my nest in the Warriors den. I layed down and drifted off to sleep, the prophecy repeating in my mind.

Chapter 7

I woke to a sunny day, I yawned. Beside me Finchfeather was asleep, I prodded him on the side and he woke up.
"Come on lazy Tom we have stuff to do," I said, we padded out to find the camp almost empty. Lionstar padded over to us, his gaze happy.
"Morning you two, you missed the patrols I sent out today, anyway the camp is mostly empty because I ordered more patrols even since what happened," Lionstar said, my pelt rose.
"What if we were attacked," I said, lion stars gaze was thoughtful.
"True you do have a point so you two can guard camp," Lionstar said, in the distance a yowl and barking was heard. We pelted towards it, when we got there we saw Deathblaze on the ground almost non moving. Foxberry had managed to drag him away and was working on him while we all fought the massive dog, we managed to back it up all the way to the gorge. I slammed into it, it grabbed me as it fell. As I felt my paws leave solid ground I looked a Finchfeather who's eyes were filled with horror, I fell and landed in the water. I tried to swim but shock overwhelmed me, I opened my eyes and saw two starclan cats. I thought my life was over until they pulled me out, they faded before I could say thank you. I lay there until everyone came down to see if I was ok, i didn't reply I only looked at them but said nothing. When my pelt dried I got up and padded back to camp, I lay in my nest to think but soon fell asleep.

Guys so sorry for the short chapter.

Chapter 8

I woke up to see Finchpaw, he was cleaning his fur not far off. I padded up to him, I sat beside him.
"I am so happy we get to be warriors today," I said, he gave me a nod.
"Me too but what will happen in the future?" Finchpaw asked, before I had time to reply Lionstars voice rang out.
"All cats old enough to catch their own prey gather around to hear my words," Lionstar called, I sat down next to Finchpaw, Mousepaw and my brother Jaypaw.
"I wonder what my warrior name will be?" Mousepaw said.
"Hollypaw, Jaypaw, Mousepaw, Finchpaw do you promise to uphold the warrior code and protect this clan even at the cost of your own life?" Lionstar called.
"I do," we said in unison.
"Then by the power of starclan I give you your warrior names, Hollypaw from this moment on you shall be known as Hollyfang, Jaypaw from this moment on you shall be known as Jayclaw, Mousepaw from this moment on you shall be known as Mouseleaf, Finchpaw from this moment on you shall be known as Finchleap starclan honers your loyalty and we welcome you as full warriors of this clan," Lionstar said, we all nodded and went to Poppyclaw to see what we had to do first.
"You four will do a hunting patrol, now get to it before we all go hungry and the snow comes," Poppyclaw said her gaze calm but her voice as angry as an elder, we padded out into the forest.
"Hey Jayclaw, Mouseleaf you go hunt by sunning rocks me and Hollyfang will go hunt by snake rocks,"Finchleap said, I followed him to snake rocks while Jayclaw and Mouseleaf went towards sunning rocks. When we got to snake rocks we hid because what we saw would kill us if it got the chance, it's gaze drifted towards us. I knew that if we made a sound, we would be in big trouble.

Hey guys, I know I left you on a cliff hanger and I want to ask a few things. Should I just give up Wattpad? Should I never write on Wattpad again? I would like it if you guys left your options in the comments below, until next time guys.

Chapter 9

I looked at Finchleap, our eyes filled with terror.
"I will destract it you get help got it," I said.
"No that's crazy," he hissed under his breath.
"I will not take no for an answer no go while I get its attention," I said, he nodded and I bolted out from under the bush. The Badgers large head swung in my direction, it lumbered after me while I ran. It huge paw hit my side knocking the wind from me, I hit a rock and landed. I saw its large body coming towards me, I tried to get up as it slammed me down in the dirt. My vision was fading, I heard yowling as I blacked out.

Ooooooh what will happen to Hollyfang, will she live or will she join starclan?

Chapter 10

I woke in the medicine cats den, Finchfeather was beside me asleep. I smiled and licked his ear, he stirred and he awoke his gaze happy, "Your awake!" He said jumping up.
"Of course I am silly," I said a purr in my voice, Snowpetal padded in a few herbs in her jaws.
"Oh thank starclan you lived," she said her gaze happy.
"Of course i did nothing can get me down," I said standing, my Ribs hurt from where the badger hit me.
"Lay down and let yourself heal, that badger almost broke your ribs when Finchfeather showed up," Snowpetal said, I sighed and layed back down in my nest. I watched as Snowpetal put some comfrey on my side, Finchfeather kept on comforting me. The pain went away shortly and I was allowed to leave, I padded out to the camp. Foxberry padded over to me, his tail high.
"Hey Hollyfang I am glad your awake I missed you," he said, I saw Finchfeather roll his eyes.
"Good to see you too," I said, he purred. I went to go over to Finchfeather when foxberry put his tail out to stop me, I looked at him confused.
"Want to come hunting with me?" He asked.
"Can Finchfeather come?" I asked, he rolled his eyes.
"No it's just us two he is busy building the camp," Foxberry said, I sighed and followed Foxberry. We got into the forest when Foxberry turned around, his gaze serious.
"Why did you stop?" I asked.
"Can I ask you something?" Foxberry asked.
"Sure," I said.
"Well I wanted to know if you would be my mate?" Foxberry asked, I was shocked.
"I-I am sorry Foxberry but I love Finchfeather," I said, his gaze turned angry.
"So now I am not good enough, just because you grew up with him doesn't mean anything I loved you ever since you were a warrior I loved you all my life and you turn me down!" Foxberry said, he slashed at my face. I stumbled back, my cheek bleeding.

"F-Foxberry stop," I pleaded, he stalked up to me.
"This is what you get for breaking my heart," he said, he tackled me and clawed at my face. Finchfeather jumped out of a nearby bush and tackled Foxberry, they fought while I stood. I cleaned the blood from my face, Finchfeather came out of the bushes he and Foxberry disappeared into. I sighed happily, I nuzzled him.
"Hollyfang will you be my mate?" Finchfeather asked, I purred.
"Of course I will," I said, we padded back to camp.

Boom guys Hollyfang and Finchfeather finally got together, just thought of a new question for you guys. What do you think I should name the future kits, I will ask you the same question when the kits of Hollyfang and Finchfeather are grown up and so on.

Chapter 11

It had been moons since I became mates with Finchfeather, I was expecting his kits. I looked down at my round belly, I purred and wondered how many there would be. I padded out of the nursery, I closed my eyes as a cool breeze ruffled my fur. Finchfeather padded over a mouse in his jaws, I purred.
"You didn't have to," I said.
"Queens and elders eat before everyone else," he said, I nuzzled him before taking a bite of my mouse. When I finished my mouse a snowflake fell on my nose, I sneezed and went inside the nursery. The snow fell heavy that night, pain surged through my body. Finchfeather padded in to check on me, I was in so much pain. He ran out to get Snowpetal, when they got back the first kit was already coming.
A few minutes later.
I looked at the two small kits suckling at my side, I purred.
"You did great," Finchfeather said, he purred.
"What should we name them?" I asked.
"Well they are both she-kits, I think the gingery grey one should be called Dawnkit," Finchfeather said.
"And the little pale grey one should be called Lillykit," I said.
"They are perfect names," Snowpetal said, she padded out of the nursery.

Here they are guys the two kits, one of these kits has a powerful prophecy for their future kits. I am not going to spoil, no matter how much you bug me. To say this much the prophecy happens next book, that's all I am going to say.

Chapter 12

I woke up to yowling, I poked my head out to see that shadowclan had attacked us. I went in and woke my kits, their heads shot up.
"Quickly my kits shadowclan have invaded we must go," I said, they were confused.
"But mama we don't want to go," Lillykit cried, I nuzzled her. The fighting was growing stronger, my eyes were wide with fear.
"Quickly now," I said, I grabbed both kits in my jaws. I snuck through the shadows and the snow filled forest, I headed towards four trees. I yowled as I felt something heavy land on my back, my kits ended up in the freezing snow. I shoved my attacker off me, I spun around to see a large grey Tom.
"Leave me and my kits alone," I spat.
"It's my job to kill all the kits," he said, I lunged at him. He dodged and I spun in the air to face him, he was taken by surprise as I scratched his side. My kits hid in the warmth of a bush, I lunged at the Tom again but this time he pinned me. I struggled under his weight, he unsheathed his claws. I tried to get him off as he bit down on my throat, I looked at my kits horrified faces. He bit down harder, my vision was fading and I knew my time was coming. I watched as Finchfeather came and attacked the Tom, he came to my side.
"I-I love y-you Finchfeather and I-I always w-w-will," I managed to say.
"Hey hey it's ok your going to be fine," he choked out from his sadness.
"M-make sure our k-kits grow up to be s-stronge warriors," I choked out my life leaving me.
"I promise," Finchfeather cried, I smiled and my eyes started closing. I opened my eyes to see my body , my kits and my mate wailing. I padded up to their side, I knew they could not see me.
"We will be together again one day my love," I whispered, I knew he couldn't hear me. I saw some starclan cats waiting for me, I padded over to them.
"They will be fine I promise," a tabby one said, I followed them into starclan.

Hey guys sorry to say we have reached the end of this book, hey do not worry the next book will be out soon. It will be called Dawnpelts Secret book 3.
